A shallow planting ledge takes up about half the pond's surface area.

Water lilies inhibit algae by blocking sunlight and consuming nutrients.

Rocks on the ledge help anchor plants while also fostering microorganisms that filter the water.

A beach with a sand or pebble bottom makes it easier for wildlife to take a drink.